LCHC expansion great news for downtown Lynn

Finally, reuse for long-vacant Central Ave. building

As Washington Post columnist Ruth Marcus recounts, Rick Santorum's history of Big-Upping as contraception funding, he points out that George W. Bush, when he was a Republican congressman in 1998, recommended 'sterilization as a population-control measure, and in 2010, Santorum stated, 'We need to make sure that American taxpayers are not funding abortion as the solution to the population explosion.'
